HOW DO EMPLOYERS BENEFIT FROM BUILDING LOCAL LEADERS?

Employers will gain more than just a better-trained staff member — they gain a confident, connected, and community-minded leader. Participants return with stronger leadership, communication, and problem-solving skills that directly enhance workplace performance. This investment fosters greater employee engagement and loyalty, leading to a more motivated and committed team. They also develop sharper strategic thinking, gaining a broader understanding of the community and how your organization fits into the bigger picture. Best of all, the benefits are immediate — participants apply what they learn right away, bringing new ideas, improved collaboration, and a renewed sense of purpose back to your organization.

A PROGRAM OF

— MUHLENBERG — CIVIC LEADERSHIP — INSTITUTE —

The Greater Muhlenberg Chamber of Commerce and the Felix E. Martin Jr. Foundation are partnering to offer a learning program for emerging local leaders. MCLI provides a deep dive into the resources available and challenges facing Muhlenberg County and provides opportunities for participants to deepen their engagement in the community.

The program brings together a diverse group of engaged local citizens over 8 months to gain insight into the complex issues that face our County. By developing new relationships across sectors and fostering a deeper understanding of local issues, the program strives to empower local leaders to find fresh insights and design and lead creative solutions which can impact the issues that are most important to program participants.

The program is open to all aspiring community leaders that are willing to dedicate the time and effort over eight months to build relationships, learn about community, engage in conversations, and consider and design solutions to address challenges.
